It is said that the proprietors of the celebrated Plantation Bitters rent no less than nine pews from the different denominations in New York city for all those of their employees who will occupy them regularly, free of charge. This is certainly praiseworthy, and it is to be hoped that others who employ a large number of people, will follow the example. The above fact, accompanied with the belief that a firm who would look so closely after the morals and welfare of their employees, would not undertake to impose upon the public, has induced us to give the Plantation Bitters a trial, and having found them to be all that is represented, we cordially recommend them as a tonic of rare merit. INDEPENDENT.

PETER'S Musical Review for April is on hand, and, in addition to fifteen pages of select reading matter, contains the following new and beautiful music: Ain't I Sweet? A lady's comic song. Rest, Darling, Rest; I'm Still a Friend to You; He wipes the tear from every eye; Forest Glade March; Damask Rose Waltz: Golden Sunset Mazurka. Our musical friends will do well to examine this work, and we feel confident that thirty cents, sent to the publishers for a sample copy, will yield them a larger return for their investment than any similar outlay can make. J L Peters, publisher, box 5429, New York, $3 a year.

Merry's Museum has for a long time contributed to the merriment and instruction of the young; and although it is much older than many of its readers, it is none the less a delighful companion to them. Its reading matter is always fresh and spicy, and is arranged in an attractive style that adds much to the worth of the publication. The editors are Louisa M Alcott and Aunt Sue, both of whom are well known friends of the young, who delight in interesting their readers. Their knowledge of youth is put to a most intelligent use. The Museum is published by Horace B Fuller, No 14 Broomfield street, Boston. Terms $1,50 a year. The publisher will send a specimen number free to any one who wishes to examine the magazine.

The American Odd Fellow for April has an attractive table of contents. The serial story, the Ocean Twins, increases in interest. The history of Odd Fellowship promises to be the most complete and authentic history of the order ever written. An able contributor gives a graphic sketch of the public institutions on Blackwell's Island, and An Odd Fellow Abroad, continues his valuable letters, recounting in the current number his adventures and observations in Naples and amid the ruins of Pompeii. A great variety of other original reading matter of general interest is also furnished in the April number. Published by John W Orr, 96 Nassau street, N Y. $2 per year.

ALREADY OUT.—Ballou's Monthly for May. Its leading articles are: The Wolf Rock Lighthouse, Bits of Broken China, About Granite, The Island of Capri, Revolutionary Monument, Fountains, The Demon of the Yorkes, Vanished Dreams, The Haunted Chamber, and a variety of other articles of interest to the reader. Elliott, Thomas & Talbott, Boston, Mass.

Fairmaid of Perth and Annie of Gierstein are two of the latest of Appleton's issue of the Waverly Novels, by Walter Scott. Handsomely printed, illustrated, ond very cheap at 25 cts. D Appleton & Co., N Y.

THE SCHOOLMATE—For January, February and March are received. It is truly a neat and will filled monthly, admirably adapted to the capacity of youthful readers. Published by Joseph H Allen, Boston. Finely illustrated.

ONWARD.—Mayne Reid's Magazine, for the present month, comes forth in its usual vigor and beauty. It is taking an elevated place among the numerous monthlies which are now crowding on the attention of the reader. Carleton. Publisher, N Y.

The following rather singular articles appeared originally in the Ohic Democrat, of which Mr. Mathews, we believe, is editor. Whatever of delusion some may attribute to these productions, certainly they wear an air of candor and sincerity which should, at least, commend them to the reader as worthy a careful perusal:

Spiritual Communication.

From the Hon. D. W. Stambaugh, Late of New Philadelphia, Ohio.

The following communication from Hon. D W Stambaugh, late of this city, deceased, is given in reply to one from the senior editor of this paper, to Mr. S, in "spirit realms," and responded to promptly by him through the mediumship of Jas. V. Mansfield, Esq. the celebrated writing and test medium, of New York city. The letter containing the questions to Mr Stambaugh, was closely sealed, but without superscription, enclosed in another envelope and addressed to the medium. The letter was returned unopened, and with the sealing wax unbroken, as can be fully attested by several reliable gentlemen of this city, who took charge of the matter:

NEW PHILADELPHIA, OHIO,
February 11th, 1869.

To HON. D. W. STAMBAUGH, late of this city:

DEAR SIR: A number of your friends here, believing you "still live," respectfully request you to answer the following questions, and give such other communications as you may think proper. There is a great interest manifested here to hear from you, and so many doubt your ability to answer, that I hope you will gratify your numerous friends.

Yours, truly,
C. H. MATHEWS.

[ANSWER.]

MY DEAR MATHEWS:

Yours of the 11th is before me—and my soul rejoices at the thought of speaking with you at this my short stay in spirit realms. My mind and spirit wanders to that dear place where we was wont to sit together—to counsel each other.(*) Removed as I am from you bodily—yet, brother, my spirit is with you in every good word and work. Had I but have known that this communication existed—(to the extent I now know it does)—before I passed to this sphere—I should have been now better prepared to communicate with you and others who have joined you in this investigation. But give me time, Bro., and I will not only advise with you now, but more at length—when strength is more complete—

Q. What did you think of the ceremonies attending your burial?

A. As to the ceremonies over my mortal remains, all was satisfactory; and for the love and respect manifested, you, and all those attending it, accept my warmest thanks.

Q. What is your present condition?

A. Well, as to that, my Bro., it is more happy, more beautiful, than I had earth hopes of enjoying. This life I find to be as real as that you now enjoy, and yet more beautiful—for it is one step in advance of that.

Q. Have we any mediums in New Philadelphia?

A. You have mediums in N P. but not sufficiently developed to be reliable, as I now see them

Say to Stockwell I will communicate to him by-and-by, will he allow me to do so—

Say to the order, I will be pleased to communicate to them one and all, when my conditions are suitable—

Q. by Mr John Buthler. Do you know whether Mr. Joseph Talbot is in the spirit land?

A. Say to John B. that J. T. is a spirit.

As ever, your Bro.
D. W. STAMBAUGH.

To C. H. MATHEWS, New Phil. Ohio.

Try the Spirits.

"Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God; because many false prophets are gone out into the world."—John iv, 1.

It will be remembered that in the Ohio Democrat of March 5th, we published what we believe to be a veritable communication from our friend Hon. D W Stambaugh, who died in this city, on the 22d day of January, last. Some of the questions we had propounded to him in "spirit realms," were not answered in the first communication, for the reason that Mr S., could not fully control the medium; or, to speak more plainly, in earthly parlance, the wires wouldn't work. Since that time, however, we have received, unsolicited, another communication, from the same source. It is dated *M*arcch 11th, 1868, just one month later than the first, and is given through the mediumship of Jas V, *M*ansfield, Esq., 102 West 15th st., New York, and who, in all human probability, never heard tell of Mr. S. or any of the parties named.

"Whether in the body, or out of the body," the characteristics of our friend are not to "hide his light under a bushel, but to set it upon a table so that it may shine through the house." (We quote the spirit of the text) It will be noticed that Mr. S. passes a eulogy upon the senior editor of this paper for "proclaiming this doctrine broadcast to the world," and we sincerely thank our absent friend for this kind "manifestation" of his fraternal regard, and, assure him hereby, that we shall endeavor to merit its continuance, and shall be pleased to hear from him often.

We are perfectly well aware that in publishing these letters from our friend, we interfere somewhat with the well settled opinions of many of our readers, in regard to the condition of a spirit after it separates from the body. All experience tells us that before a science can be established, it must run the guantlet of popular prejudice. When the magnetic telegraph was first invented by Prof. Morse, only 25 years since, so great was the "humbug" that scarcely money enough could be raised to establish a line between Washington and Baltimore, to test its usefulness. Now the wires stretch from pole to pole. The living miracle of the nineteenth century is that free speech, free thought, free religion, and absolute spiritual growth, exist in every portion of the civilized world. These facts, (if facts they be,) that spirits can and do communicate with their friends here, should be known to the people, and not kept concealed from them, to be dispensed only by canonized priests, at that shrine "where slaves shall minister and fools shall kneel;" and we know of no beetter way of dispensing light than through the medium of the press. "Let there be light"! and "Let your light so shine among men that they may see your good works and glorify your father which is in Heaven." We are sorry to confess that, in publishing a political paper, the amount of space that can be devoted to religious subjects is small; and this is our only excuse for not devoting more space to one of the most important questions that can possibly engage the attention of mankind. M.

MY DEAR MATHEWS:

In my communication to you of Feb 11, I promised to speak again when my conditions were more suitable. Although I must confess I am not much better prepared to control the medium now, than I was then. But, as I find the way open,—rather too medium positive, (*) I venture to make another attempt to reach you and the brethren in N. P.

It rejoices my soul exceedingly to know my broken or limited remarks reached you and were received with such welcome. And then, the course you took in proclaiming the same broadcast to the world. Let me say, Brother Mathews, that was not only a step in the right direction, but the best step of your life; and will you but follow that inward monitor,—the Divine of your being—it will lead you into still greater light and liberty. I have much I would tell you and our dear Brotherhood, of that which surrounds me, and awaiting you, one and all, if you are but faithful to the light reflected from Heaven.

Question by Peter W Himes.—Did you believe, while in the form, that you could communicate with with your friends after death?

A. Say to Bro. Himes: I did believe in my soul, that spirits of our dear departed could speak to us from their summer land abode—although I did not care to proclaim it, as I now wish I had, and as I would, were I to live my life over again in the body form.

Q, by Thomas Moore.—I trust you are happy. Am I correct?

A. To Bro. Moore, say: I am as happy as any one of my sphere, and far more happy than I had earth hopes of enjoying.

To one and all of the Order [of Odd Fellows,] my kindest regards, and assurances of watching over and impressing them of that which may conduce to their welfare and the prosperity of that Order, or Institution, (I was about to say,) the savior of mankind.

As ever, yours,
D. W. STAMBAUGH.

Curious Facts About Water.

The extent to which water mingles with bodies apparently the most solid, is very wonderful. The glittering opal, which beauty wears as an ornament, is only flint and water. Of every twelve hundred tons of earth which a landlord has in his estate four hundred are water. The snow-capped summits of our highest mountains have many million tons of water in a solified form. In every plaster of Paris statue which an Itallian carries through our streets for sale, there is one pound of water to four pounds of chalk. The air we breathe contains five grains of water to each cubic foot of its bulk. The potatoes and turnips which are boiled for our dinner have, in their raw state, the one 75th per cent. and the other 90 per cent. of water.

If a man weighing one hundred and forty pounds were squeezed in a hydraulic press, seventy pounds of water would run out, the balance being solid matter. A man is, chemically speaking, 45 pounds of carbon and other elements, with nitrogen diffused through five and a half pailsfull of water. In plants we find water thus mingling no less wonderfully. A sunflower evaporates one and a quarter pints of water a day, and a cabbage about the same quantity. A wheat plat exhales, in 175 days, about one hundred thousand pounds of water.

The sap plants is the medium through which this mass of fluid is conveyed. It forms a delicate pump, up which the watery particles run with the rapidity of a swift stream. By the action of the sap various properties may be accumulated to the growing plant. Timber in France is, for instance, dyed by various colors mixed with water, and sprinkled over the roots of the tree. Dahlias are also colored by a similar process.

Brigham Young lately lectured the ladies of Mormondom on education, and, among other remarks, made these pertinent ones: "See, in the fashionable world, the education given to a young lady! It consists mainly how to bow and curtsey, how to meet a gentleman, how to be graceful in a ball room, how to get into and out of a carriage, how to walk on the street, how high her clothes should be lifted or how many feet they should drag behind her; and, in addition to this, to thrum on the piano, and have a smattering of French or Italian. These are what should be called female loafers; they are no good to themselves or anybody else. They cannot knit their stockings, make their dresses or underclothing, or do anything useful."

Advice, like snow, the softer it falls, the longer it dwells upon, and the deeper it sinks into, the mind.

Farraly produced films of gold so thin that it would require 350,000,000 of them to make an inch in thickness.

PROVIDENCE

Never helps those who neglect to help themselves. Use the means for protecting your health, and fortify yourself against the attacks of disease, and Providence will do more for you than ever you dreamed of. A course of Mishler's Herb-Bitters will insure good and permanent health to any man, woman or child.

BAD PRACTICE.—You might as well expect to relieve and cure an inflamed eye by dusting irritating powders into it as to expect to relieve and cure catarrh [which is an inflamation of the mucous membrane of the air passages in the head] by the use of irritating snuffs or strong, caustic solutions. Dr Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures Catarrh by its mild, soothing action which subdues the inflamation and restores the natural secretion of the mucous follicles. It is a pleasant remedy, its use being attended and followed by a cooling and agreeable sensation. The proprietor, R V Pierce, M D., of Buffalo, N. Y., offers $500 for a case of catarrh that he can not cure. Sent by mail on receipt of sixty cents. Address the proprietor as above.

Constitutional Amendment--YES.

Congress adjourned on Saturday last until the first Monday in December next. The president, however, convened the senate on Monday for the purpose of ratifying nominations, and attending to such other business as is necessary on the advent of a new administration.

But the last accounts say that the Ohio legislature has not yet adjourned, and it is not known when it will do so. This is the third session for the present democratic body. That party, when it made the new state constitution nearly twenty years ago, put in it a special provision that they meet—as governor Jenkins used to say—biannually—but they have met three times in two years.

Within the last few days the diurnal papers have been giving their readers a few specimens of incoherent, inappropriate speeches, which they attribute to senator Sprague of Rhode Island. For a number of years this man has distinguished himself, and especially during the war he was a shining and brilliant example of patriotism. His recent erratic course leads strongly to the suspicion that he is an intemperate man in the use of intoxicating liquors, and that his senatorial efforts are but the inspiration of the bottle. If so it is another fearful example of giving way to a perverted appetite; and it will not be long until he will have outlived his usefulness, if, indeed, he has not already done so. This is another evidence of the need of a temperance political party. Since Mr S has commenced this eccentric style of oratory it is very evident that the democratic papers have formed a great partiality for his speeches, and are freely quoting his sayings. If it is so that this distinguished man has turned out an inebriate, and that his utterances are gospel to the copperheads, it looks very much as if they prefer the sayings of a drunken man to a sober one.

Some of our cotemporaries appear to be uneasy at the idea of temperance men holding a state convention, commencing to-day, at Crestline, for the purpose of availing the cause of the efficiency of political action. Don't be disturbed, gentlemen; all that will be asked of you is to nominate temperance men, who are known to be such, elect them, and then sustain them afterward in their legislative, executive and judicial relations, and the political work will have been accomplished. The programme is a simple one, and all parties who acquiesce in these measures will, we are sure, have the co-operation of temperance men. Otherwise, if their wishes are unheeded, depend upon it a separate organization will be formed, and then there will be shaking among the dry bones.

One day last week the president recommended, in a brief message to congress, the propriety of taking immediate steps to have Virginia and Mississippi taken in as states—or remove all obstructions which hinder that relation to the government. The message was quite unexpected, but from what we could see up to Saturday last, the house concurred in the recommendation, but the senate was somewhat tardy in expressing acquiescence. Both these states it is said, have expressed a willingness to submit to the requirements of the national government, and it would seem that the country will sustain the administration in this measure.

Monday's papers state that congress has agreed, in both branches, to the president's suggestions.

Our Ohio legislature, after much cogitation decided to leave the amendment question to the people—that is, the democracy showed their cowardice in not squarely meeting the question. They are not yet tired of riding the negro hobby—it seems to be their only stock in trade. They perhaps imagine that they can repeat the experiment of 1867, and appeal to the baser prejudices of the people to sustain them once more. Let them make this the issue, and they may once more succeed by the skin of their teeth, but it is even doubtful if they do so then. As obtuse as they are to the signs of the times they cant help seeing the significant handwriting on the wall, proclaiming their doom—at least so far as the negro is concerned. Ere many years every man in Ohio, white or black, will be a voter, and the modern democracy cant help it.

A. J.—Late president of the U S, but now an humble individual of Greenville, Tennessee, has yet the gift of speech left him, and he has been exercising this gift with a looseness among his fellow citizens. According to what is reported of his recent stump efforts he considers this nation about used up—not in consequence of anything he did, for did'nt he work to save it, as never man wrought?—but because of the wicked, radical congress, and the terrible mistakes of his successor, Gen. Grant. One thing he proposes to do, and that is, to devote his remaining days in defending and justifying his policy before the American people. Certainly he has a pretty heavy job on hand, and if he lives long enough may achieve success in this enterprise—to his own satisfaction—provided a half century is yet alotted to him, and his speech fails not.

The Rhode Island election took place on the 7th, and resulted somewhat after the fashion of the Connecticut, only much more so. The republicans made a clean sweep, electing the governor by over 4,000 majority, and all the rest of the state officers in proportion. The democratic reaction don't seem to favor them in the right way.

Connecticut did much better than was first reported, choosing a republican governor by nearly 1,000 majority—electing three congressmen out of four, whereas it was three to four the other way previously—securing all the state officers, and both houses of the legislature by decided majorities. Here are two more states for the constitutional amendment.

Letter from Missouri

SHELBINA, Mo. April 6th 1869.

MR. J. FROST, ED. MASSILLON [O.] INDEPENDENT.

DEAR SIR.—I thought you would like to have a letter to put in your columns from a Massillon Boy in his travels to the Far West, whither I am bound. My first stopping place and where I commence my letter, is the fast and thriving city of Chicago, Ill., which city is bound to be the second New York, of the west. It has vastly improved in the last four years, and property has doubled and trebled in value, and is still steadily increasing as every year adds many thousands to its vast and mighty population. But still for all its increase it has some very bad faults I am sorry to say, one of which is its drinking and gambling establishments being in full blast as much on the Sabbath day as on week days. However all the citizens do not approve of it, and are endeavoring to have a different set of laws this coming year, and are working hard to over come the evils of the great city. The City has paid Fire Departments, consisting of 15 steam fire engines two hook and ladder trucks, all drawn by fine looking horses and energetic, stout men. Chicago's police, however are very deficint but are steadily improving. There are several noble societies in the city. First is the Soldier's Home, fronting on Lake Michigan opposite Douglas's Grave kept up by the noble ladies of Chicago; and some help from the state. Secondly, there is the Young Men's Christian Association which during the last year obtained employment for over four thousand men, and also obtained suitable employment for a great many women, and besides expects to open reading rooms shortly in their handsome new building on West Madison street, free to all who may come. They have prayer meetings every noon between 12 and 1 P. M. Chicago has also some beautiful and handsome churches and Sabbath schools. which are well attended, and where they sing some most beautiful hymns to the God most high. Chicago has also some beautiful stores, which are doing a tremendous business at the present time. It also has some stupendous manufactories of different kinds of articles, and its streets which used to be so muddy are improvvery fast, being laid with the Nicholson block pavement; and it has splendid sewerage. Most all through the city it receives pure water from Lake Michigan through a tunnel two miles out in the lake. It has water works in a handsome building which has a tower 185 feet high, from which a fine view of the city can be obtained on a clear day. And then there is a tunnel under the river and Washington street for pedestrians and teams. There are numerous bridges over the river which connect the north, south and west sides together. Chicago has some fine residences of stone, brick and frame, but the frame predominates, being about two to one. Hotels are plenty and such houses as the Sherman, Tremont, Briggs, and Adams are the principal ones, besides there are numbers of minor houses. Young men as a general thing if they do not have good references, or else a good trade had better stay away from Chicago or else have a good many friends to help them along, as there were 25,000 out of employment when I left there, and more all the time coming. Mechanic's wages are a trifle better than in Ohio. From Chicago I took the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy road for Quincy. The towns as a general thing are well built, but the country is very flat with a good many ponds and sluggish streams and very little wood, until you arrive at the junction of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific roads. where the face of the country changes, it being more rolling, better timbered, larger streams, and have more fall, not being so sluggish, and water is cleaner. The principal towns along the road are Aurora, Mendota, Galesburg, and Quincy. The latter place has a population of 45,000 is situated on the Mississippi which connects the Missouri side with a handsome bridge. At Mendota is an old Massillonian in the grocery business and doing well, Daniel Harbaugh. At a small station, Camp Point, is another, James Harris, station and express agent. I cannot give you a description of Quincy as I did not stop there it being dark when I arrived. However, I got a fair supper at regular railroad fare. I arrived here, in Shelbina, late on night of the 31st March—will likely leave this evening for Omaha—will send you a letter from that place at some future time. Shelbina is located on a broad, fertile prairie and contains a population from 1200 to 1500 inhabitants, and is steadily improving. Here like other towns I found another Massillon Boy, Lyman U. Humphreys, editing an extreme radical paper, which has a circulation of over 1000 copies, and has considerable job work too. Humphreys is fighting the rebels here with the pen, just as hard as he used to when he was with the fighting boys in blue in the field. He is also practicing law and is doing well and is well liked. There are some good buildings here, mostly frame, and stores are doing a flourishing business. Just now there are splendid openings for men with large and small capitals to help build up this rich agricultural country, which is fully 50 years behind the former free states, as all are now alike and union men and soldiers are perfectly safe here. Though this part of the country is improving rapidly under the plans of farmers from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Pennsylvania and New York state. Shelbyville, the county seat, is 8 miles from Shelbina. It has a population of about 800, but has rather a dingy appearance. There is considerable business done there, but Shelbina is far ahead. The farms are more rolling than about Shelbina and are better timbered, with plenty of excellent hisory, oak of various kinds, ash, soft maple and various other kinds of timber not anything extra. There is also plenty of coal both bituminous and cannell, of good quality but as yet very little worked. Some limestone along Salt and North River. Good brick can be had at $8,00 and $10,00 per thousand, and good wood delivered from $2,50 to $3 per cord. The soil is rich and fertile, and there are good crops, wheat fall and spring. common yellow, white, oats, with hay of various sorts, mostly timothy. The principal streams are Salt and North river, with numerous smaller streams and sloughs of good water, and the country is very healthy, more so than in Stark county. Wild lands can be obtained from $5 to $10 per acre, according to locality, and improved from $5 to $50. This county is two thirds prairie and balance timber with plenty of game, such as deer wild turkey, geese, ducks, quail, pheasants, grouse, prairie chickens and other smaller game. Farms where cultivated are generally well fenced, with fair buildings but very inferior barns common to slave states. The names of the papers published here are the union, Shelby County Herald and rebel Shelbina Democrat, the latter a new sheet.

Yours, truly,
A MASSILLON BOY.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, April 9, 1869.

The war department has issued an order directing the reductions in the number of clerks and messengers at headquarters of military divisions and departments; and the number of citizens hired by the quartermaster's department; the number of officers drawing commutation of fuel and quarters; and the means of transportation, including animals, wagons, boats, &c.; all of which will make a large diminution of the expenses of the war department.

It is improbable that congress will postpone its adjournment beyond Saturday the 10th inst., the time already fixed upon by both branches, for the sake of providing for an election in Virginia, on the proposed constitution, in pursuance of the recommendation of the president in his special message of the 7th inst. The senators and representatives have all made up their minds and arrangements to adjourn this week, to go home, or do whatever else. And these are men who, as a general thing, have purposes of their own of consequence to themselves and to others, which cannot be pre-arranged one day, and revoked a week after, with indifference. And there are 300 of such men, the majority of whom must agree to this disruption of their anticipations. Besides, this postponement would be, it seems to me, divided among themselves. Both sides—if, happily there prove to be but two sides in the case—will have their advocates in the lobbies if not in the chambers, and will exert an influence to protract the consideration, and defer the final decision, of the matter. And lastly, in this view of the subject, the president would not desire the postponement of the adjournment. He would be very willing that congress remain in session a very few days, more or less, longer. for the accomplishment of what seems to him a very desirable object; but I am persuaded that even he would not like to have the session extended beyond that, into one of indefinite duration. The president has not yet—could not in so short a time be expected to have—got over his military habit of mind of feeling that everything must be done in prompt obedience to his sole sovereign will. Congress has been a check upon this will, and a constant reminder of the difference between the military and civil service. In no unfriendliness, this. On the contrary, no president in the history of the government, hardly excepting Washington, has been so destitute of opponents, personal or political, in congress. It comes necessarily of the nature of the distinctive powers of the different branches of our government, and of the nature of the political machinery by which the president has been made president, and the senators and representatives have been made what they are, and by which the latter form connecting links between the people and the executive departments of the government. The president's good sense has recognized the change of situation, but one habit of mind is not so readily put off for another; and doubtless he has experienced at unaware moments many unexpected checks, which, although he must approve on reflection, have not been pleasant. In a word, therefore he would avoid the liability to any more of them. To this end, I hold he would have been glad of an adjournment long ago, and certainly does not wish its postponement now; reasonably hoping that when congress assemble again, he will insensibly have slided out of his old habit, and into a new one becoming his new station; and thus be prepared the chafing checks of what must always be the controlling branch of a popular form of government, by adopting a still shorter check of his own.

Still, all my reasoning may go for nothing. I know many here think—in fact that was the conclusion all seemed to jump at on reading the message—that congress will rescind the motion to adjourn Saturday. Nous verrous.

Since the above was written, the house has passed a bill authorizing the president to order an election in Virginia, Mississippi and Texas; and at this writing (afternoon) the senate is discussing amendments of that bill. The likelihood now is that a concurrence will be effected at once, and the occasion for a postponement be avoided.

"RIVERSIDE"

Lots For Sale,

That beautiful tract of land known as the

FAIR GROUND,

on the bluff west of Massillon and on the bank of the Tuscarawas river together with adjoining lands has just been divided into lots, which are recorded as the Riverside Addition to the town of Massillon.

The lots are of good size and will be sold at such easy terms of payment as to place a home within the reach of all. The beauty of the location is unsurpassed, and we believe it is a conceded fact that a location on the west bank of a running stream of water is always more healthy than one on the east bank.

It is apparent to all that the business and population of Massillon are very rapidly increasing. It is also apparent that public attention is directed to the west side of the river as the most desirable point for a home now in the market or that probably ever will be in the market again. We think therefore that it is safe to predict that in a very few years this grand addition

RIVERSIDE,

Will be covered over with dwelling houses, which will be occupied by a large proportion of the busy citizens of the city of Massillon.

Every man who has a family or ever expects to have one ought to have a home in his own right then he will be independent, if not rich. A better opportunity will never again be offered of securing one so desirable, so cheap; and so easily paid for.

Also a very desirable out lot of about eight acres, adjoining Massillon, on the Canton road, will divide well into three or four pasture lots. Also some beautiful lots in the east part of the city.

The plots may be examined, and lots selected at my store. [292] P. G. ALBRIGHT.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Last week, when the drying up process began here, the mud in the streets disappeared as if by magic, and in some localities in our city people commenced the process of street cleaning. Friday active operations commenced in the gardens, and a day or two previously farmers began to turn their furrows, preparatory to putting in their spring crops; and some of them put in their early potatoes.

ORPHAN ZOUAVES.—A considerable number of our citizens were much interested two evenings last week in witnessing and listening to the performances of some dozen little orphan boys whose fathers gave their lives in the late war in behalf of their country. A benevolent gentleman, who has the care of these children, gave some account of their history, and his business is to secure for them the means of a good common school education. Many who heard his explanations felt a deep interest in the laudable object which he has in view, and a feeling of sympathy was awakened in favor of it, in the minds of many of our people, who manifested their sympathy so as to aid in the measure contemplated. Ranging from six to fifteen years of age, these little boys showed that they have the natural qualifications for improvement in a good degree, and all that is asked is, that their abilities may be developed by education.

BREVITY.—Somebody says brevity is the soul of wit—and it's so. And we may add that brevity is the grand secret of prosperity in busines. Wordy men seldom get rich. Having had some experience in printing sale bills we have frequent occasions to dispense with useless and superfluous words. Copy comes in with so many head of horses, head of cows, head of sheep, head of hogs, &c. Just as well say so many tails of horses, tails of sheep, &c.; and say one head, (or tail) of turkey, one head (or tail) of gander, &c. There is quite as much sense in using the hindmost as the foremost end of a horse, cow, or sheep to identify the animal, and say tail instead of head—but nobody is so absurd as to do so. Then, again, this copy will have one cow, one horse, one hog, &c. Here is one useless word for every essential one—the ones can all be left out. Cow, horse, hog, means one of each without the prefix one. A sale bill, therefore is fully as significant with the heads and tails of animals left out, and the useless ones dispensed with, as tho' we put in all the heads horns and tails of the entire stock of a farm.

The grocery establishments formerly owned by J S Lockwood and by the co-operative association were always conducted on strictly temperance principles; and it is gratifying to know that the new proprietors of both establishments, viz: Messrs. Bruce & McDonald, purchasers of the one owned by Mr Lockwood, continue theirs on the same principles; as also is that one owned by Mr London, bought of the association, and which is under control of Mr Arnold. Neither of them, we are gratified to state, designs having anything in the shape of liquors, and it will be well for consistent temperance people to patronize these men, for they design keeping everything that is needed in the way of groceries which can be had elsewhere.

The man or woman, who invents a pencil or pen—cheap, efficient, and always ready for action, will prove a benefactor to all scribblers. There are many good devices, in this way now, but if a pencil is used the writer very often has a goodly amount of whittling to do. What is wanted is an article which will ever be ready for use, without the aid of a knife or pencil grinder. If there is such an article in use one is wanted at this office.

BURGLARY.—Last Friday night some bold burglar entered the residence of Mr Clement Russell, with the evident intention of making a big haul in the way of money He, however, was disappointed, to a considerable extent, for he had to leave with but a small portion of valuables. Mrs R was watching at the bedside of a sick daughter, and when the thief entered her chamber she gave the alarm to Mr R, who had retired, whereupon the miscreant made his escape. A dose of cold lead awaits that fellow, perhaps not long in the future.

RUNAWAYS.—Last Thursday, Friday and Saturday teams managed to run away from their owners, but fortunately for all parties nobody that we hear of was injured, though narrow escapes were made. The runaway of Saturday was arrested by a collision with another vehicle, which was somewhat smashed up. Too great care cannot be exercised by those having care of teams.

The workmen who are engaged on the city Hall are getting toward completion as rapidly as possible. Several of the lower rooms are plastered, and it will not be many weeks before they will be ready for use.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.—We are under obligations to Messrs Huntsman & Hacket, manufacturers of cabinet ware, upholstery, &c., for a good old-fashioned, split-bottom, rocking chair for the use of the office, quite good enough for the most aristocratic editor in the land, and as easy to occupy, hen fashion as anything in that line with ten times the pretentions to elegance, style or beauty. As our ancient stock in this line had about pegged out, having neither sides, back, and but rickety foundations, the gift of our friends is most timely—and may prosperity and success attend them—for they, like all exemplary Christians, remembered the poor and needy in their afflictions, and thus placed us under infinite obligations for this special favor. For anything in the furniture line, made up in good style, and sold at fair rates, call on Huntsman and Hackett west of the canal.

THE I O G T Lodge of Massillon tender their sincere thanks to Mr. Charles Killinger for a fine marble tablet for the use of the presiding officer. Also, to Bro. J B Souder for finishing the same in beautiful style, rendering it an ornamental as well as useful piece of workmanship.

The large quantities of mud and earth which had been carried into the canal for last several months, requires the services of a strong force of men to remove it, and it will be several weeks before they are through with the work.

Rev. D. C. Blood, for many years pastor of the Presbyterian church of this place, but who now lives at or near Cleveland, made a brief visit to his numerous old friends the present week, remaining but a day or two. He came, in part to attend the funeral of his old friend and neighbor, the late Samuel Pease, to whose memory a deserving and well prepared obituary appears in to-day's paper, written by one fully competent to the task.

Is it true that a respectable woman of this city has gone into the business of liquor selling? Such is the report; but we hope she will seriously reflect on the terrible consequences which are inseparable to such a business; that these troubles will not only visit her customers, but they will come right home and prey upon her own family.

We thank bro. Young of the Buckeye state for the flattering personal notice with which he has chosen to favor us; and all the mistake there is about it is, that it is much more favorable than the subject deserves. In his behalf we can truthfully remark that since Mr Young has taken charge of the paper of which he is editor he has improved it vastly in influence, and in every good quality pertaining to a weekly newspaper.

Special attention paid to collections. Deposits received to the amount of $5 and upward.

—Mr Marshall is now crowded with orders for fruit trees, and constantly keeps a considerable number of men employed in filling them. The planting season is now active and very many people are making use of it in filling their grounds with fruit and ornamental trees. It is a good investment—and good trees are as easily cultivated as those of a poorer quality. A great call on Mr M is for the Grimes Golden, a very highly esteemed apple, possessing many of the best qualities of this standard fruit.

The man who is constantly talking about himself is very apt to tire his hearers of the subject of his discussion. They [the hearers] would like to have an occasional change of text.

A portion of the family of Mr G L Russell of this place, very narrowly escaped a severe spell of sickness, if not death, one day last week, in consequence of using poke root, through mistake in their food. In this dread emergency Dr Metz was called and succeeded in arresting anything like fatal results, though the attack was regarded as serious, and produced severe suffering.

Died

At his residence on Main street, in this city, at 11½ o'clock P. M., on Saturday the 10th inst, of congestion of the brain, which was preceded by a paralytic stroke, at Dayton, on the 3d inst, Hon. Samuel Pease, in the 67th year of his age.

Mr. Pease was so long a resident of this city, and so closely identified with its growth and prosperity that a simple announcement of his death is insufficient; while a record of this city is preserved his name will appear upon the historic stage. He was a native of Wooster, Otsego county, New York, and was born on the second day of September 1802. In 1805 his parents removed to Aurora, Portage Co, O., where as he grew to manhood he aided in hewing down the forest and improving that well known township. In that day the means of education were limited; availing himself of the best means within his reach, he became the pupil of the Rev John Seward, who survives him at the age of 90, also of Rev Samuel Bissell, late if not now principal of the Twinsburgh Academy, both of whom are graduates of Yale, and acquired such an education, including a fair knowledge of the languages, as enabled him to become a teacher, and by a judicious use of his time, working on the farm, studying and teaching, he became qualified for any position to which he might be called, and selected the law, and entered the office of the late Hon Van R Humphrey, at Hudson, as a student where he remained until his studies were nearly completed, when he went to Ravenna, and with the late Hon Jonathan Sloane, finished the course of study required, and was admitted to practice in the early autumn of 1831. In November of that year he came to Massillon, then a hamlet of a few dwelling houses, the ground plat of which was hardly cleared of the leafy honors of the forest, and opened a law office. It was then that the personal acquaintance of the writer with Mr Pease commenced, and with it a friendship that remained unbroken and undisturbed until he passed away. He was the first lawyer to open an office here and remain. L L Foote, Esq., commenced practice here as early as 1828, but not meeting with success left, and has almost ceased to be remembered as a member of the Stark county bar. An incident known to the writer, is worth relating just here, as illustrative of how slight a circumstance may change the history of an entire business life. Immediately after Mr Pease's admission to the bar and while looking around with the world before him where to choose, two young ladies then residing here were visiting at Ravenna, and made his acquaintance. In the course of conversation they learned that he was seeking a place to open an office, and recommended Massillon, and what they said in its favor induced him to come here. Both the ladies survive him. One resides at Marietta, O., the maternal head of a worthy family, and the other is a resident of this city in her second widowhood.

When Mr Pease came to Stark county the late Hon Jeremiah H Hallock was president judge of this, the 5th, judicial circuit, composed of the counties of Stark, Columbiana, Jefferson, Harrison, and Tuscarawas, to which in the following year Carroll was added by act of the general assembly, establishing the county.

The Stark county bar was composed of Loomis, Metcalf, Harris, Griswold, Starkweather, Jarvis, and others whose names have passed from memory. (Among the foreign lawyers were Messrs Goodenow, Tappan, the brothers Collier, of Steubenville, and judge Coffin, who now resides in Cincinnati, of whom Messrs Griswold, Starkweather, Gen. James Collier, and Judge Coffin are the only survivers. With such an array of talent Mr Pease entered into competition for the honors and emoluments of his profession, and it is scarcely justice to his memory as a lawyer to say that few young men ever sustained themselves better. As long as he desired it he enjoyed a lucrative practice, and the entire confidence of the courts and bar wherever he appeared. While his forte was not as an advocate, as a jurisconsult and and pleader, civil and criminal, he occupied a prominent place. His was strictly a legal mind. It may well be said of him that he knew the law and the reason thereof. His familiarity with Chitty, Gould, Stephen and other authors in that branch of his profession, gave him great weight on all questions of that character, somewhat different from the callow lawyerlings manufactured in these days by the dispensations of the code.

In 1853 after twenty-two years of professional life he withdrew from the care and drudgery of a law office and up to the time of his death paid little attention to the details of business.

On the passage by congress of the revenue laws now in force, he received the appointment of assessor, giving his attention to its duties until failing health compelled him to rest. He was never a politician in the sense in which the term is used and understood. An earnest whig, then a republican, he was always found on the side of the principles so well mantained by the American people during the last ten years. As an advocate of those principles he leaves an unspotted record.

But little more than a year ago—March 17, 1868—he buried his wife to whom he was married on the 14th of May, 1835. Being in failing health at the time of her decease, he never recovered from the shock, and often expressed himself to the writer as being ready for the summons that should call him

"To join the innumerable caravan which moves,
To that mysterious realm, where each shall take
His chamber in the silent halls of death."

Few knew him better than the writer of this poor tribute to his memory; an acquaintance and friendship of thirty-eight years, two of which were spent as a student in his office endears his memory by ties which only death can sever. Could he have been conscious at his death, the faith practiced in his life would have exhibited itself and is perhaps best expressed in the Rime of the Ancient Mariner:

"He prayeth best who loveth best,
All things both great and small;
For the dear God who loveth us,
He made and loveth all."

R. H. F.

DIED—On the night of the 9th inst., after two weeks patient suffering, Charlie E. son of J. and M. E. Core, Aged 6 months.

"God forbade his longer stay;
God recalled the precious loan;
God hath taken him away,
From our bosom to his own;
Surely what he wills is best,
Happy in his will we rest."

The Next Republican State Convention.

The Union Republican State Central Committee had a meeting in this city yesterday, at which the reports of the officers and executive committee were presented eminently satisfactory. The executive committee report all debts paid, with a balance of some $500 in the treasury, a state of affairs never before reported by any committee, we believe acting in such a campaign.

The committee, republican members of the legislature, the governor, and other prominent republicans met for conference last night and decided to hold the next republican state convention June 23.

The executive committee was highly complimented for the efficient work accomplished during the campaign, several gentlemen refer ing to the reports and results in terms of highest praise.

Hon. J. K. Rukenbrod, of Columbiana, offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, The political campaign of 1868 resulted so gloriously in the vindication and triumph of republican principles in Ohio, therefore,

Resolved, That much credit belongs to the officers of the state executive committee for their able, skillful and judicious management of the same; and for the energy and faithfulness manifested throughout, in discharge of the arduous responsibilities entrusted to them, they are entitled to the generous acknowledgment of the republican party of the state, and especially to the state central committee, under whose appointment they acted.—Ohio State Journal, April 1.

HEMBOLD'S.
Concentrated Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla

ERADICATES ERUPTIVE and ULCERATIVE DISEASES OF THE THROAT, NOSE, EYES, EYELIDS, SCALP, and SKIN,

Which so disfigure the appearance, PURGING the evil effects of mercury and removing all taints the remnants of diseases hereditary or otherwise and is taken by adults and children with perfect SAFETY.

TWO TABLE-SPOONFULS of the extract of Sarsaparilla, added to a pint of water, is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoctions as usually made.

AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medico-Chirurgical Review, on the subject of the Extract of Sarsaparilla in certain affections by Benjamin Travers, F. R. S., &c. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious.

Do not Trifle With Danger.

A single spark may kindle a flame that will consume a city, and small ailments, neglected, may end in fatal disorders. Bearing this fact in mind, let the first symptoms of debility or nervous prostration be met promptly by invigorating treatment. Foremost among the vegetable tonics of the age stands HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and whenever the vital powers seem to anguish, or there is any reason to suspect that the animal functions essential to the sustenation and purification of the body are imperfectly performed, this invaluable invigorant and antiseptic should at once be resorted to. Indigestion always produces weakness of the bodily powers. Sometimes it happens that the appetite demands more food than the stomach can digest: though not more, perhaps, than is required to keep up the full strength of the frame. The object, under such circumstances, is to increase the digestive capacity of the assimilating organ, so as to make it equal to the duty imposed upon it by the appetite, and capable of supplying the building material of the system as fast as it is required. This object is fully accomplished by the use of the bitters They tone and gently stimulate the cellular membrane which secretes the gastric juice, and the result is that the solvent is mixed with the food in sufficient quantity to convert all its nourishing particles into pure and wholesome element. If, on the other hand, there is a deficiency of appetite, without any corresponding deficiency of digestive power, the effect of the tonic is to stimulate a desire for food. In nineteen cases out of twenty headache, nausea, nervousness, fainting-fits, spasms, and indeed, most of the casual aches and pains to which humanity is subject, proceed primarily from indigestion complicated with biliousness; and for both these complaints HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are recommended as a speedy and certain remedy. 301-4t

YOU ALL

HAVE HEARD OF

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,

AND

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,

Prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia. Their introduction into this country from Germany occurred in 1825.

THEY CURED YOUR

FATHERS AND MOTHERS,

And will cure you and your children. They are entirely different from the many preparations now in the country called Bitters or Tonics. They are no tavern preparation, or anything like one; but good, honest, reliable medicines. They are

The greatest known remedies for

Liver Complaint,
DYSPEPSIA,
Nervous Debility,
JAUNDICE,
Diseases of the Kidneys,
ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN,

and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or

IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil and Great Depression of Spirits.

All these indicate disease of the Liver or Digestive Organs, combined with impure blood.

Hoofland's German Bitters

is entirely vegetable, and contains no liquor. It is a compound of Fluid Extracts. The Roots, Herbs, and Barks from which these extracts are made are gathered in Germany. All the medicinal virtues are extracted from them by a scientific chemist. These extracts are then forwarded to this country to be used expressly for the manufacture of these Bitters. There is no alcoholic substance of any kind used in compounding the Bitters, hence it is the only Bitters that can be used in cases where alcoholic stimulants are not advisable.

Hoofland's German Tonic

is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with PURE Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, etc. It is used for the same diseases as the Bitters, in cases where some pure alcoholic stimulus is required. You will bear in mind that these remedies are entirely different from any others advertised for the cure of the diseases named, these being scientific preparations of medicinal extracts, while the others are mere decoctions of rum in some form. The TONIC is decidedly one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public. Its taste is exquisite. It is a pleasure to take it, while its life-giving, exhilarating, and medicinal qualities have caused it to be known as the greatest of all tonics.

DEBILITY.

There is no medicine equal to Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic in cases of Debility. They impart a tone and vigor to the whole system, strengthen the appetite, cause an enjoyment of the food, enable the stomach to digest it, purify the blood, give a good, sound, healthy complexion, eradicate the yellow tinge from the eye, impart a bloom to the cheeks, and change the patient from a short-breathed, emaciated, weak, and nervous invalid, to a full-faced, stout, and vigorous person.

Weak and Delicate Children are made strong by using the Bitters or Tonic. In fact, they are Family Medicines. They can be administered with perfect safety to a child three months old, the most delicate female, or a man of ninety.

These Remedies are the best

Blood Purifiers

ever known, and will cure all diseases resulting from bad blood. Keep your blood pure; keep your Liver in order; keep your digestive organs in a sound, healthy condition, by the use of these remedies, and no disease will ever assail you. The best men in the country recommend them. If years of honest reputation go for anything you must try these preparations.

FROM HON. GEO. W. WOODWARD,

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1867.

I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" is not an intoxicating beverage, but is a good tonic, useful in disorders of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility and want of nervous action, in the system.

Yours truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD.

FROM HON. JAMES THOMPSON,

Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1866.

I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect,
JAMES THOMPSON.

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,

Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

DR. JACKSON—DEAR SIR:—I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances, and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that for general debility of the system and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.

Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates street.

CAUTION.

Hoofland's German Remedies are counterfeited. The genuine have the signature of C. M. Jackson on the front of the outside wrapper of each bottle, and the name of the article blown in each bottle. All others are counterfeit.

Price of the Tonic, $1 50 per bottle; Or, a half dozen for $7 50.

The tonic is put up in quart bottles.

Recollect that it is Dr. Hoofland's German Remedies that are so universally used and so highly recommended; and do not allow the Druggists to induce you to take anything else that he may say is just as good, because he makes a larger profit on it. These Remedies will be sent by express to any locality upon application to the Ode to Spring.

The following gem from John Phœnix, up braiding a backward spring, has peculiar point to the year 1869.

Well, Spring, youv cum at last, hev you?
The poit sez youv bin sittin in old Winter's
Lap—now ain't you ashamed of yourself?
I spose the old feller's bin bussin you;
I shud think he had from your breth
A bein so cold—but that's the way them
Old feller's hev a doin.

Well, as I was sayin,
Youv cum at last with your bamy
Breth a blowin from the Northwes—
Wesconstant or Nebrasky, I spose,
Great countries for bam I rekin.

Now youv cum wen
Everybody's feed and Korn and things
Hev all bin fed out? Now luk at
Our kritters, will ye! See our Katl!
On the lift, a hevin to be stedied by
Thur tails when they gits up a mornins!
Luk at our hossis wat's all rejuced
To skeleton a weepin over a troft;
A hull troft of kobs?
A hull troft full of bitter recleeshuns!

Luk at them sheep alien in
The fence corners a watin for grass!
Yis! and they've bin a watin some ov
Them weex! And if they wasn't
Puld theyd a bin shakin their lox
At U and sed U dun it! [That thur
Is from Hamlet, one of Shakespur's plais]
As another poit sez—Grass refused makes
The stumak rike. So these shepe will Never open thur i onto grass again—no

Now luk at them hogs as has bin

The old teapot after garden seeds,
And all these things make me think youv cum!

Ef so be I've lied ye,

Crossing a Bayou.

BY W. H. H. MURRAY.

"I was out a hunting once," he said, in good westernee which I shall not attempt to imitate, "on this river [the Mississippi], and I came late in the day to a bayou. My way lay down the river, and round that bayou was six or seven miles, while across it was only two or three hundred yards. I didn't want the walk, and I didn't want to be belated, so I determined to try the bayou. There was no water in it; it was all mud,—that kind of slimy, greasy, quick-mud that holds on to a man, and slowly sucks him down in spite of himself. I knew the danger, but I thought I could manage it. Hunting about I found two planks washed up from some old flat boat, maybe years before. With these I started out, stepping from one to the other, pulling first one then the other from behind me and putting it ahead, till I got about the middle of the bayou. Every step I had taken was more and more difficult. The farther I went the more my planks were sucked down by the devilish mud, till I could stand up no longer, but was obliged first to sit, and then to lie down flat on my stomach, to divide my weight more equally. Hauling myself on to the foremost, I would turn around as on a pivot, grasp the plank behind, haul it alongside, and then shove it ahead of me. Pretty soon I had to help my hands with my teeth, for all the strength of both was needed to raise the planks from the quagmire that sucked them down. At last one of them sunk beyond my reach. Flat on my face on a single plank, in the middle of the bayou, the mud rising around me ready to swallow me up,—I considered. I couldn't swim ashore, for I wasn't in the water; I couldn't wade, for to stand up was to go down like a plummet; to move six inches either way was sure death. No human aid could ever reach me; no human creature might pass that way for months; no house, no road was within miles of me. My only chance for life was another plank. That I must have or lie there until I starved to death, or roll over and make an end of it in the nasty mud. Then I remembered my jack-knife. Getting it out of my pocket, I cut under me, lying flat as I was, slowly and patiently upon the plank that long seasoning had made almost as hard as iron, till I cut it in two. Then pulling myself forward on the farther half, I drew the hindermost ahead of me again, and so went on as before. I got out at last; but, stranger, I was the ugliest-looking white man when I crawled ashore that ever you did see!" He patted his long rifle affectionately, and added: "But I never parted with her!"—Atlantic Monthly.

Was Mrs. Forceythe a Swedenborgian?

To-day what should deacon Quirk do but make a solemn call on Mrs Forceythe, for the purpose of asking—and with this hint that he wished he had asked before she became a member of the Homer first Congregational church—whether there were truth in the rumors, now rife about town, that she was a Swedenborgian!

Aunt Winifred broke out laughing, and laughed merrily. The deacon frowned.

'I used to fancy that I believed in Swedenborg,' she said, as soon as she could sober down a little.

The deacon pricked up his ears, with visions of excommunications and councils reflected on every feature.

'Until I read his books,' she finished.

'Oh!' said the deacon. He waited for more, but she seemed to consider the conversation at an end.

'So then you—if I understand—are not a Swedenborgian, ma'am?'

'I: I were, I certainly should have had no inducement to join myself to your church,' she replied, with gentle dignity. 'I believe, with all my heart, in the same Bible and the same creed that you believe in, deacon Quirk.'

'And you live your creed, which all such genial Christians do not find it necessary to do,' I thought, as the deacon in some perplexity took his departure, and she returned with a smile to her sewing.—From the Gates Ajar, by E Stuart Phelps.

How They Shave in China.

A fellow who has been shaved in China says that the barber first stropped the razor on his leg, and then did the shaving without any lather. The customer remonstrated, but was told that lather was entirely useless, and had a tendency to make the hair tough and stiff, and was therefore, never used by persons who had any knowledge of the face and its appendages. After the beard had been taken off—and it was done in a very short time—the—the barber took a long, sharp, needle shaped spoon, and began to explore his customers ears. He brought up from numerous little crevices, bits of wax and dirt that had been accumulating since his childhood. The barber suddenly twisted his subject's neck to one side in such a manner that it cracked as though the vertebræ had been dislocated. 'Hold on!' shouted the party, alarmed for the safety of his neck. 'All right,' replied the tonsor, 'me no hurt you;' and he continued to continued to jerk and twist the neck until it was as limber as an old woman's dish rag. He then fell to beating the back, breast, arms and sides with his fists, and pummelled the muscles until they fairly glowed with the beating they had received. He then dashed a bucket of cold water over his man, dried the skin with towels, and declared that his work was done. Price two cents.

The Maine legislature has passed a bill which provides that any man who desired in his lifetime that his body might be delivered to a physician or surgeon, shall have his will respected, unless within three days his relations want to bury him; and also that bodies of convicted criminals dying in jail or state prison may be likewise delivered, unless the previous owner should have objected three days before, or his friends three days after death. The surgeon has to give bonds to use the body for surgical purposes.

To Cure a Felon.—It is said that a poultice of onions applied morning noon and night, for three or four days will cure a felon. No matter how bad the case, lancing will be unnecessary if the poultice is applied. The remedy is a safe sure and speedy one. So says some one who pretends to know. If a genuine remedy it is worth circulating.

The "Fat Contributor" of the Cincinnati Times is particularly proud of his grammar. He boasts of accuracy as follows: "If there is anything we pride myself on more than your another, it is grammar. Correctness in the languages are things we boast of, and we do defy nobody to have any flaws in it been picked."
